

As a lot of you know, we're getting ready to send those sales tax rebate checks back to you, and lots of people are wondering how they can donate their rebate to fund a new stadium—remember, this is your chance to put your money where your mouth is and make a direct contribution to pay for your share, whatever you think that should be.

Anyway, we now have everything in place for that account. The Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission is going to take care of it, so if you want to send a contribution, make the check out to the Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission and send it to this address: (are you ready?)

Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission
900 South 5th Street
Minneapolis, 55415

And on the check, maybe in the memo line, you know, where you usually write Happy Birthday, or something like that, write “New Stadium Fund.”

When the commission gets your check, they'll send you an acknowledgement.

They'll take donations until June 30th of next year, and if there isn't a viable plan in place to build a stadium, you'll get your money back. You won't get any interest on it though, because they're going to use the interest to pay for administering the account.

So the address, once again, is:
Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission
900 South 5th Street
Minneapolis, 55415

And if you have any questions, call the Department of Revenue's general information number, or check out their website.
